BETWEEN the woolly elephant,
The monkeys and the clown,
And all the other circus things,
The place is upside down.
All the wicked sinners here,
And sprinkling of the just,
Have sworn a great big, solemn oath,
To see the show or bust.

Did you ever see such a crowd in your life?

The Durrett will case ended yesterday by the will being sustained.

Jacob voters are awful scarce in Maysville. The bait is not tempting enough.

Last week the great Mayslick land ejectment case, was thrown out of court.

"He is a gentleman with red hair and a disposition to run with the Stalwarts." Such is fame.

The argument in the District Court over the Guiteau bill of exceptions, will take place on the 8th of May.

A NUMBER of business houses in Maysville have stopped work to-day, to permit the employes to attend the circus.

SAMUEL COOPER, a prominent land agent, living near Portsmouth, in an altercation, had his nose entirely bitten off by a young man named Mershon.

In the House on Monday, the Senate resolution appropriating $1,000 for the erection of a monument over the remains of Judge J. M. Elliott, was adopted.

MESSRS. J. W. WATSON & CO., will remove their wholesale liquor establishment to the house on Second street formerly occupied by Mr. C. B. Anderson.

The Stalwart Republican guillotine, started by the pop of that bull-dog pistol, is working nicely. The baskets in this neighborhood may be gotten ready now to catch the heads.

Mr. Charles Downing received on Monday 30,000 pounds of tobacco and on Tuesday, 10,000 pounds more. For the latter lot he paid eighteen cents a pound. It is said to be as good as any ever grown in Mason county.

The report that Mr. James Heflin had been removed as Deputy Marshal in this district and a colored man appointed in his place, is without foundation. Mr. H. has receive his commission, executed bond and is now actively engaged in the discharge of his duties.

THE BULLETIN is not trying to crowd anybody out of the printing business. We reduced prices simply because we thought they ought to be reduced. They are reasonable and afford us a profit that we are satisfied with. If we can make a further reduction, and do justice to ourselves, we propose to do so. The rates of advertising in the DAILY BULLETIN have been reduced also.

Postoffice Matters.

It is reported that Capt. Hutchins will remove the postoffice to Court street, with a view of making it more convenient to the public.

Mr. C. P. Shockley, it is said, will have a news depot at the postoffice.

The postoffice, it is said, will be in the National bank building, others assert that it will be in the Glascock building.

It is reported that Hutchins has grown at least two inches in height.

Rumor has it that Mr. Shelby Campbell will hold an important place under the new postmaster, and the friends of Duke Martin, who are legion, say that his claims will not be overlooked.

The Washington correspondent of the Courier-Journal utters this wicked slander of our new postmaster:

"President Arthur put the cap sheaf on his stock of Kentucky appointments to-day. He made three Kentucky postmasters—James S. Woods, at Catlettsburg; J. Q. Linney, at Danville, and Morris C. Hutchins, at Maysville. Woods is mostly an unknown quantity in politics; Linney is a member of the State Central Committee and has been a good postmaster eight years; the cap sheaf is Hutchins. He was one of the 306 at Chicago, and wears a brass collar. He is the man who was made a guy of in the Palmer House, and induced to believe that the Princess Louise, who was in Chicago at the time of the convention, was smitten with his appearance, and by a letter in a disguised hand led to strut around the parlors with a red rose in his button-hole for two hours while four Kentuckians were laughing at him. He succeeds postmaster Stockton, a good man, and there was no reason for the change. Hutchins got a lot of letters, with the understanding that he wanted a foreign place, and then turned them all to account for the postoffice. As many Maysville men as found out the trick and could do so in time corrected the error by withdrawing, but he had the brass collar and was put through. He is a gentleman with red hair and a disposition to run with the Stalwarts.

There is one Kentuckian more distinguished than he for mental peculiarities, and he is a member of Congress. The President has distinguished himself in appointing Mr. Hutchins Postmaster at Maysville. His glory will come later.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Col. John B. Poyntz, who has been in Indiana for some months, is at home again.

Mr. S. B. Lashbrooke, who has been here on a hurried business trip, returned to Missouri, Monday.

Miss Millie Howe, is visiting friends at Mayslick.

Miss Kate Blanchard has returned home accompanied by Miss Mary O'Neil, of Woodlawn, near Manchester, Ohio.

Miss Annie M. Miller, who has been visiting friends near Orangeburg, for a few days has returned home.

Mr. Charles Miner and wife, of Kewanee, Ill., are visiting Mr. S. S. Miner. He is Mr. Miner's only brother.

Mr. Joseph Norvel, of Carlisle, has gone to Frankfort to accept a position obtained for him by Judge Hargis.

Mrs. Thomas Nicholson, of Houston, Texas, is visiting relatives in this county.

Mrs. Thomas A. Davis, who has been visiting friends in Maysville, has returned home.

Lookout for thieves to-day.

He Teased a Lion.

The Cincinnati Enquirer of Tuesday, says:

An act that was not announced by the Sells Brothers occurred at their circus in Covington last night. A man named Dr. Tauner was playing with one of the lion cubs, when the animal suddenly became mad and grabbed him by the hand. The doctor yelled for help, and made a desperate effort to free himself, but to no avail. The animal held on to his paw like grim death, and when assistance arrived he had the man's arm nearly all in his mouth. Bystanders say that they could hear the bones in the man's arm crack as the king of the forest pressed down on them. The man's cries soon attracted the employes of the circus, and a number of them entered the cage with spikes and clubs, and after considerable punching and beating they succeeded in compelling the infuriated beast to loosen his grip. The man immediately fainted, and had to be carried from the tent. The arm will in all probability have to be amputated, as upon examination it was found that nearly all the bones were crushed. His hand was fearfully lacerated.

Grand Opening.

Mrs. Lou. Pearce wishes to say to the ladies of Maysville and vicinity, that she will give her grand opening of summer millinery goods and fancy notions of every description, during the first week of May, commencing on Thursday of that week. All are respectfully invited.

A Request.

Having met with a disastrous accident on the 13th inst., and needing money badly, we earnestly request those indebted to the firm of G. W. Blatterman & Co., either by account or note, to call upon the undersigned and make payment without delay. (a25daw1w) L. C. BLATTERMAN.

Speaks for Itself.

There are different beers in this market shipped here from different parts of the country, and the cost of transportation and handling of an inferior article, therefore it speaks for itself that you should prefer the National Genuine Export Beer. Call upon Fred. Otto, etc., these parties have the same constantly on hand. 225t

The river is falling.

Rev. Cadwallader Lewis, a distinguished Baptist divine living in Franklin county, died suddenly on Saturday night last.

At Brooksville, Bracken county, Mrs. Haley a young woman, has brought suit against her husband; Thomas Haley, who is over seventy years old, for one-third of his property, which is estimated at $150,000. They are now separated having found it impossible to live together.

COUNTY POINTS.

MAYSICK.

Miss Maria Warden is convalescing.
The wheat crop is much injured.
W B Grimes is still poorly.
Mr E Myall visited his son in Cincinnati last week.
J A Jackson and Mrs A G Wilson spent last Sunday at Mt Olivet.
Miss Mary McIlvaine, of Maysville, is perambulating among her relatives and friends near here.
W J Jackson is in Cincinnati this week in the interest of his mercantile establishment.
Hiram Dye, Esq., sold lately a fine span of horses to Mr Martin, the horseman of Ripley, O. Price, $500.
Miss Fannie Burrows, of Maysville, after spending a pleasant visit with Miss Marie Porter Warden left for home Tuesday morning.
Miss Jeannette M Orr is seriously ill. We are glad to state, however, that Dr Pickett, of Maysville, takes a hopeful view of her case.
W J Jackson has in his possession a living curiosity—he has appropriately named it Barnum's "What is it." Sells Brothers will cater to their own interest by calling to see it.

Misses Jennie and Nannie Vansant and Lizzie Hord, of Flemingsburg, and Miss Lucy Pearce, of Poplar Plains, visited Mrs William Thackston, last week. They are all charming young ladies and received much attention.
The mortality among the colored population has been great. Should this continue the Republicans must need import one before August for a "nest egg."
Misses Maggie and Bettie Laytham are in Charleston Bortom, visiting the family of Mr Porter McIlvaine.
W J Reese sold a fine bay horse to Mr. Martin, of Ripley, O., for $175.
S B Clarke, our worthy fellow townsman and druggist, and sold a bay mare to Richard Wells, the Helena tobacco man, for $200.
An enterprising wave, we are glad to say, has struck this town. Judge John T. Wilson and Jonas Myall are each building handsome bay-windows in addition to their houses. Let us now have a telephone.
Smith Garrison, a colored individual of this place, while going to Mt. Olivet one night last week, saw as he supposed a white ghost on the fence, he fired at it but said it ran past him and scared his horse. The next day a hole was discovered in some white cotton which was used as a covering for a tobacco bed. ROMEO.

TWO LICK.

J W Hinson sold a young mare for $115.
Johnie Disher purchased a horse for $125.
Young cattle are in demand just now and bringing fine prices.

The Sunday school is progressing fairly. Attendance good.

Zeph Case, who has been quite sick, is about again.

Mrs Maria Woodward is some better at this writing.

Some of our citizens attended the show Wednesday to see that the babies were well taken care of.

Isaac Insko has commenced the erection of a large frame stable.

Very little corn has been planted yet owing to the cold weather and bad condition of the ground. Some are not done plowing yet.

Uncle Tommy Kenton is again in our neighborhood. He is hale and hearty and bids fair to reach the one hundredth year of his age.

Elder Tiller did not come to his appointment here the 3rd Sunday, owing to pressing duties at the Theological Seminary. He will preach at Two Lick Church the 2nd Sunday in May.

Uncle Tommy Kenton says, "he wore an overcoat for fifty years. It was home made and he doesn't know how much longer it would have lasted if the calves hadn't destroyed it."

Robertson county has surveyed her part of the proposed turnpike and elected officers. Now let Mason county whoop up her part and not be behind Robertson.

The fruit is not all killed yet we think. We notice some apples and plums alive. Early wheat is badly injured, but late wheat is all right. We predict that if nothing happens from this time on we will have as large a harvest as we had last year in this neighborhood. HOMO.

Speaking by the Card.

Several gentlemen were standing on the corner of Galveston avenue when one of most fashionable ladies of Galveston passed on the sidewalk.

"Ah!" exclaimed one of the gentlemen. "what a complexion! There is nothing to beat it in Galveston. I am proud of that woman, I am."

"Are you her husband?" asked a stranger.

"No, sir."

"Her father, then?"

"No, sir; I am no relation of her's; but I am proud of her complexion. I am the druggist that sold it to her. I make it myself.—Galveston News.

TO THE PUBLIC.

RECENTLY I shipped a large lot of goods by the steamer Joe Kinney, from St. Louis for Kansas City. The boat struck the bridge at Glasgow, Mo., and sank immediately, causing a total loss of boat and cargo. It was insured to the amount of $1,500, in the Continental, of N. Y., Jos. F. Brodick, agent at Maysville, Ky. About five days ago my statement of loss was forwarded to the General Agent of the company at Buffalo, N. Y. To-day I have a check for the amount of insurance. Two things are necessary to entitle an insurance company to the confidence of the public; one is large wealth and the other is honor. The Continental certainly has both. Call upon the Maysville agent for safe indemnity. a22d&w1t G. W. BLATTERMAN.
